Job Description:

The Supplier Quality Engineer (SQE) has overall responsibility for making sure proper processes, quality criteria, test methods, etc. are established at a supplier. A mix of manufacturing, supply chain, and logistics specialists who play a central role in assessing supplier quality and ensuring that products received are free of defects.

Responsibilities:

- Utilize, update, and manage Inspection Check Lists and Supplier Quality Requirements
- Track and qualify or disqualify suppliers according to predefined criteria that they help establish
- Visit supplier facilities to assess their practices and procedures for effectiveness
  - Review and assess manufacturing procedures, typically by visiting vendor facilities and observing their manufacturing processes
- Address and resolve quality issues, providing technical input and guidance on process enhancements and improvements
  - While conducting site visits and reviewing incoming products from vendors, look for non-conformances and issues with quality
- Maintain detailed reports related to supplier quality by measuring KPIs and participating in supplier performance reviews. Enable reporting of metrics for monthly reviews as required.
- Participate in the Production Part Approval Process (PAPP)
- Drive supplier requirements and supplier performance objectives
- Help develop commodity strategies
- Utilize, update, and manage Inspection Check Lists and Supplier Quality Requirements
- Manage first article and vendor source inspections, incoming, in process and final product inspection
- Investigate, disposition and conduct root cause and corrective actions
- Other activities as management may deem necessary

Skills and Qualifications:

- Principles and practices of process validation
- Quality improvement tools and techniques
- Auditing procedures
- Excellent communication skills
- Ability to read blueprints
- No direct reports so work is generally independent and collaborative in nature
- Willingness to travel up to 30% of the time. Some overseas travel may be required
- Bachelor's degree or equivalent with 3-7 years of related supplier quality experience
- Lean, lean six sigma and/or related certification a plus.
